

WILSON DEFINES MONROE THEORY

San Salvador Note, Kept Secret, Forwarded by State Department.

NAMES FOUR COURSES

Resume of Text Would Make America's Peace Model for World.

President Wilson has defined the Monroe Doctrine in the terms of his address before the Pan American Conference in January, 1916. The definition, requested by San Salvador, has been forwarded to the Latin American republic by the State Department.

The text was not made public, but it apparently proposes to make the Americas a model of peace for the world. The Monroe Doctrine's letter "demanded merely that European governments should not attempt to extend their political systems to this side of the Atlantic." However, in the President's minute spirit proposes:

1. The absolute guaranteeing of political independence and territorial integrity of every American republic.

2. An agreement to settle all outstanding boundary disputes by arbitration or other amicable processes.

3. An agreement that all disputes be handled by patient investigation and settled by arbitration.

4. An agreement that no state shall permit a revolutionary expedition against the government of another state to be outfitted within its boundaries nor permit munitions of war to be exported for such revolutionary purposes.

The publication of the strict text of the definition is awaited here with a good deal of political interest. In it the President is thought to have implicitly answered Senate critics who allege that the treaty of Versailles destroys or weakens the historic doctrine of the two Americas.

Appropriate Funds to Continue Drive for New Members.

Forty-five new members were admitted to the Washington Board of Trade at a meeting yesterday of the board of directors. E. C. Graham presided.

The directors appropriated $100 to carry on work of the membership committee. Charles J. Waters, chairman of the committee for the entertainment of the membership committee, reported on the success of the mid-winter dinner at the Wardman Park Hotel, February 3. Resolutions of sympathy were extended to the parents of the late superintendent of police.

300,000 Polish Soldiers Clad in U. S. Olive-Drab

Over 300 carloads of American war material, purchased at Coblenz from the American Army, have arrived at Warsaw, and are being used to fit out the Polish Army, supplemented by an issue of American socks and sweaters, according to a report received here.

The new levy of 200,000 men is being fitted out almost entirely with American army uniforms and overseas caps. During December alone half a million pairs of Red Cross socks and a quarter million sweaters were distributed. Some knitted gloves, shoes and knitted helmets are also being distributed.

The American uniform is being worn by most of the Polish army at the front. Seventy thousand of the Polish army are Americans (either native-born or naturalized, who have come from America to help Poland gain and maintain its freedom).

For the Little Ones

To Keep Their Digestion Perfect Nothing is so Safe and Pleasant as Stuard's Dyspepsia Tablets.

An experienced observer in charge of a large office said it was a waste of words to tell most people to eat plain food. They prefer the food that delights the eye. Choosing up on the after effects of the usual distresses of gasiness, sour risings, water brash, indigestion and so on may be avoided by following the meal with one or two Stuard's Dyspepsia Tablets. These supply the stomach with an alkaline effect thus promoting normal conditions as in health. This puts the O. K. on so-called rich food. Men and women are but children of a larger growth when it comes to eating the foods that satisfy even though they may cause indigestion.

It is not necessary to be particularly fastidious to be satisfied. It may be that the most common cause of indigestion is the use of rich, fatty, or spicy foods. Stuard's Dyspepsia Tablets are a safe and pleasant way to keep the stomach in good condition. They are a sure and certain remedy for all the common troubles of indigestion, such as gas, sourness, water brash, and heartburn. TURKISH QUESTION MAY MAKE BREACH IN DIPLOMATIC TIE crowns on private American protests for fear of creating American embassies with the allies. Washington allegedly advised against the mass meeting held at New York Sunday night. Henry Morgenthau, it is even reported, was persuaded to withdraw as a speaker.

Arabs and Turks Unite. The present Turkish situation has as many explosive possibilities as the Arabic dybbuk. America was not at war with Turkey; nevertheless, the President has often warned the allies of America's interest in the Turkish treaty.

The United States has not yet recognized the Armenian republic as a de jure or even a de facto government. But the State Department is constantly urging the protection of Armenia's natural rights upon the allies.

The present tendency of Arabs and Turks toward an alliance is an invitation toward a general Moslem union. Therefore, an allied fleet is strutting on the stage of Turkish waters like the hero in a possible melodrama.

As a rule, Turkish minds are not heretically cast. They are impressed, even frightened, by such psychological parades. Some months ago, in Musselman Russia, a few thousand uniformed Bolshevik soldiers overawed millions.

Just now, Musselman Russia is being watched with much attention here. As the stream flowing into the Middle and Far East, it is a general barometer of revolutionary prospects among all the Moslem masses.

British Hold Key. Batum is generally regarded as the key to mid Asia. Whoever holds this Black Sea port has a position of considerable dominance. For months British soldiers have been in possession of that port. Recent reports that evacuation has been postponed do not satisfy the Moscow government. They, however, indicate British endeavors to prevent or meet, at least, any widespread uprising of the Mohammedans.

The Near East and the Middle East undoubtedly have become inflammatory material. England particularly must be careful with her diplomatic matches or her Indian and Persian empires will go up in smoke.

To be sure John Bull has prepared and is preparing for all emergencies. Flocks of airplanes are ready to drop bombs on German, Indian, Persian or African skies, on revolutionaries or makers of holy wars.

He has already "tested out" his new weapons. They admit to have had a certain psychological effect. Just the same he is inclined to think that he still has occasion for grave anxiety.

LENINE'S BARBER SHOULD KNOW MAN

Somebody has said somewhere that butlers, valets and other confidential servants are the most irreverent members of humankind—the great men cease to be great in their eyes, and that the only real democracy is that of the bathtub. If that be so, it would be interesting for the world to know what Mr. Joseph Yen thinks of Lenin. Estimations of the dictator of Soviet Russia rank from the eulogies of those who consider him the greatest of European statesmen to the execrations of those who see in him a veritable incubator. The chances are truth lies somewhere in between, and if ever a human being got a close-up view of this truth it was the above named barber, who has been according to "The London Daily News," Berlin newspapers declare that "this Ipak Yen is today the most powerful man in Soviet Russia. He is a Chinese of Confucius' type, and was formerly a barber's assistant in a Chinese restaurant. Also, he was nearly hanged as a spy during the Russo-Japanese war. For two months he has had working quarters in the Kremlin, and has a place in Moscow, where he keeps up great state and parades his four Christian wives on Sunday in gilded carriages. The orthodox Communists bitterly criticize Ipak and his ways, and accuse him of having accumulated 3,500,000 rubles (nominally $15,000,000) in six months.

The Communist leader Jakovlev lately declared: "We have a new Rasputin, who hypnotizes our new czar."

Concerts by Wireless Telephone Fad in Iowa

If your baby cries, let it cry—it won't bother this soloist. And it won't interfere with your hearing grand opera selections, classical and rattle music, either—if you live near Davenport, Iowa, and attend Robert Karlowa's concerts by wireless telephone.

Nearly every wireless "fan" within a radius of 100 miles of Davenport is enjoying Karlowa's baritone solos every night—and yet they don't have to leave their easy chairs. Karlowa calls his "audience" to the front of the wireless circuit. At once the apparatus is adjusted to the ears, the concert begins. With perfect transmission conditions, the entertainment usually lasts an hour.

8,000 SCHOOLS' ESSAYS JUDGED

District Pupils Compete With Maryland and Delaware.

Washington school children competing in the army essay contest will have their compositions judged with those of Maryland and Delaware. Pupils of 8,000 schools are competing for top honors in this recruiting district.

One of these thousands of compositions on "Benefits of an Army Enrollment" written simultaneously on February 20, will be represented among the fifty-six essays, one from each recruiting district, to be judged for three national prizes.

The shortest essay received to date comes from an 8-year-old lad in Akron, Col. It reads: "The United States army makes little chests big, pushes out all the bad health, and puts in good health for all the men. Then they can fight anybody."

A letter received by "The Comeback" from an 11-year-old scribe goes on to say that "in the event I win all the prizes I don't want some of them because I ain't got no sister, and I don't like girls anyhow."

HOUSE TO CONSIDER MEASURE FOR FOOD LOANS TO EUROPE

Should all of the nations interested join in the plan it is intended that a proper proportion of raw material and food will be purchased, and the mistake of feeding people without giving them something to enable them to earn their living at the same time will not be made."

McFadden Favors Action. Representative McFadden will appear before the rules committee to urge favorable action on the resolution. It was introduced in the House on February 2 by Representative W. J. Fordney, of Iowa, following the decision of the House Ways and Means Committee, of which Mr. Fordney is chairman, to report favorably the proposed loan.

Mr. Fordney said that he had done what he could to further the matter and that it was now up to the committee to act. Mr. Campbell said that he could not predict whether or not the committee would grant a special rule.

In that event it is generally conceded that the measure will not be reached in the regular course of business in this session because of the pressure of other legislation. This is the opinion of Representative Frank W. Mondell, of Wyoming, floor leader.

Would Strain Finances. Mr. Mondell said that the members of the Steering Committee had not been in favor of the loan from the start and that they had not undergone a change of heart. He expressed the opinion that such a loan would seriously strain the financial situation facing the government.

There is considerable doubt as to whether or not Congress is constitutionally warranted in using the money of the taxpayers in loans for charitable purposes during time of peace, declared Mr. Mondell. Private charity, he pointed out, was already doing much to alleviate conditions in Europe.

It is understood that the majority of the Rules Committee are not favorable to the measure. But in the event of a positive report on the Fordney resolution, it is believed the will be killed in the House. Members universally recognize the seriousness of the situation in Europe, but are not ready to act unless there is a stronger sentiment for the measure Mr. Kent further says in his report.

Situation in Austria. The food in Austria today, together with all supplies which it has been possible to purchase that are arriving will feed the people to about March 15. Certain food supplies that are available if shipped immediately from the principal locations in Austria in time provided Congress acts immediately.

"Knowing the country from ocean to ocean I am certain that the hearts of the people are right and that they would rise to meet any human emergency that they felt required their help regardless of their personal interests. But in the present emergency there is not time to wage a campaign of education and it would seem necessary therefore for America to accept the statement of their European representatives of today, who are familiar with the situation and unanimously agree that the loan should be made."

"On the strength of such representation I believe Congress should be asked to abandon everything else for the hour necessary to pass this appropriation immediately. The real need is now—not tomorrow."

CAUCUS URGED TO BREAK TIE

Democrats in Senate Will Attempt to Pick Floor Leader Soon.

Reports were current in Senatorial circles yesterday that the Democrats will again hold a caucus in the near future for the purpose of picking a minority leader. It is considered likely they will take this action soon after the disposition of the peace treaty.

When the Democrats last met in party caucus to choose a minority leader the vote was evenly divided between Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock, of Nebraska, who has been acting in the capacity of minority pilot, and Senator Underwood, of Alabama. Senator Hoke Smith, of Georgia, who held the deciding vote, refused to cast a ballot. Since then no action has been taken because Senator Smith refused to sever from his non-committal attitude.

The untimely death of Senator Bankhead, Senator Underwood's colleague, yesterday, has changed the situation. Should Senator Smith cast his vote for Underwood, the result would be a second tie, for Senator Bankhead was one of Underwood's closest supporters. Senator Smith's voting for the Alabama would replace Senator Bankhead's vote, it is shown. The refusal of Senator Smith to vote at the next caucus will result in the choice of Senator Hitchcock, unless there is an unexpected change in the present line-up.

Several Democratic Senators said yesterday that Senator Smith's criticism of the Nebraska leader in the Senate Saturday, indicated that the Georgian had at last decided to cast his lot with the Underwood faction. Two active workers for Senator Underwood declared, after Senator Smith's speech, that his choice as minority leader was certain. The death of Senator Bankhead, however, upset calculations.

Of course there isn't a reason the world why THE SALARIED MAN shouldn't also answer Announcement. And he's DOING IT—from Dallas, Washington, Minneapolis, and all cities in between.

The Salaried Woman

The salaried woman usually goes to picture shows—regularly.

She is a toiler. And her toil has to be balanced by a certain amount of amusement and recreation.

These she finds in the motion picture—and at a price she can afford to pay.

Science, Travel, News, Story, Classic Drama and diverting Comedy—these she finds in the motion picture, together with romance which is dear to her woman's heart and the inspiration demanded by her woman's soul.

So the salaried woman is what she laughingly calls herself—a movie fan!

But never until now has the salaried woman had any solid sort of chance to get in on the profit side of the motion picture business.

The FROHMAN AMUSEMENT CORPORATION now gives her this opportunity, at the same time making it safe and easy.

The salaried woman is well represented in the ownership of the Pennsylvania Railroad, the United States Steel Corporation, and other great industrial companies. She is a mighty factor in modern business. Will she leave the vast and growing motion picture business out of her calculations for personal profit? She will NOT!

The Frohman Amusement Corporation claims the honor of being the first among the standard motion picture companies to systematically and publicly recognize the right of the Patron to have a share of the Profits of the Screen.

All this is fully explained in a certain BOOK called "THE FROHMAN PLAN," which is regarded by business women generally as one of the most interesting books that has ever fallen into their hands.

We would like to send, without any cost or obligation, to the alert woman (or man) now reading this newspaper, one copy of this BOOK. And if your name and address are sent PROMPTLY ENOUGH you will also receive, with our compliments, a list of the Frohman productions and 24 portraits of Frohman Stars.

This opportunity is limited. It won't last. Therefore, as soon as you have finished this column, send your NAME and ADDRESS, plainly written on a postcard or letter-sheet, to
